

the same. The only difference is that the first group has a higher number of people than the second group. The first group has 10 people, and the second group has 5 people. The first group is larger than the second group. The first group is bigger than the second group. The first group is more than the second group. The first group is greater than the second group. The first group is larger than the second group. The first group is bigger than the second group. The first group is more than the second group. The first group is greater than the second group.

The first group is larger than the second group. The first group is bigger than the second group. The first group is more than the second group. The first group is greater than the second group.