

Figure 1: A scatter plot showing the relationship between two variables, X and Y. The data points are scattered around a central point, indicating a positive correlation. A regression line is drawn through the data points, showing a positive slope.